Description

When you need a little extra space to make a bigger visual impact, consider our wide roller banners. Portable and lightweight, they couldn't be easier to set up at the start of the day's trade, and to pack away again following close of business. If your business regularly attends industry events, or you want to grab the attention of exhibition goers with your next project, you'll need something colourful and slick to grab their attention – an extra-wide pull-up banner is the easy and affordable way to accomplish just that. Printed on one side, ensure your design stands out from the crowd with our range of large display roller banners, providing an extra wide invitation that customers can't miss. Our standard roller banner is 2m long, but comes in three different widths. You can choose from a wide roller banner of 1m, with the extra size dimensions giving your banner design more space to shine. Bringing your design to life on a roller banner is simple – just download one of our ready-made templates to get started.
