Glenville Apartments are brand new, well appointed, bright and modern homes, sitting in a property, that was previously a run down four storey Victorian terraced house. Although the property was stripped back to its bare bones before being remodelled, many original features were retained and in addition features that would have been common in the era it was originally built have been incorporated both in the interior and exterior design. The finished overall effect successfully combines period detail and modern comforts to create 6 beautiful new homes. Elliott Homes manages the property and the apartments within, all with happy tenants. Our next property development project is under way and we look forward to seeing the finished transformation soon.
